

T 5.48

eloain lovis hübner

this piece is not about stable, clean sounds, but about their fragility, their uncontrollabilities, and the worlds between them, which are crossed by wobbly bridges or collide on rock faces and gorges. the saxophone is an electric guitar, effects unit, amplifier, and feedback all in one. enjoy it.

tranquil ♩ = 54-58